Description

A decorative mid-century Limoges enamel plaque depicting The Creation of Eve, by Lucienne Martin, Limoges.The composition is directly inspired by medieval stained-glass imagery, closely echoing the Genesis window at Chartres Cathedral. Adam is shown reclining while Eve emerges beside him, with God standing in blessing -- a composition faithfully derived from Gothic models and rendered here in a vivid stained-glass style with bold black outlines and rich translucent colours.The plaque is executed in painted enamel on copper, with a decorative border imitating stained glass window panes. A small cartouche bears the inscription:"La Création d'ÈveRené Limogesde Lucienne MartinRoi d'Amboise"The wording reflects typical Limoges workshop practice of the period: "René Limoges"
