Description

Description: Charming and original pair of Indian elephant-shaped boxes, made in solid silver in the 19th century. Each elephant is richly adorned with finely engraved and repoussé floral motifs, testifying to the refined ornamental character of traditional Indian silversmithing. These two pieces are both decorative and functional: they open like small boxes, which adds to their rarity and appeal. Their sculptural form, meticulous finish and exotic character make them ideal for collectors of Indian silverware, decorative objects or animal-shaped antiques. Both elegant and whimsical, they will find a perfect place on a desk, console or display case. Dimensions (each box): Height: 19 cm Width: 18 cm Depth: 9 cm Total weight: 677 grams Condition: Very good condition for an antique. Slight traces of wear
