

Napoleon Bonaparte Engraving

140 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Description

Napoleon Bonaparte engraving
Framed engraving depicting Napoleon Bonaparte. The composition is divided into two parts: Upper part: a bust portrait of Napoleon inscribed in an oval medallion. He is depicted from the front, slightly turned, dressed in an official suit with decorated collar. A circular inscription mentions his title as First Consul of the French Republic. Lower part: an engraved scene showing a large building in the classical style, identified as the Palais du Louvre, in front of which stands a crowd accompanied by troops, suggesting a public or military scene. The text at the bottom is in German: "Bonaparte, erster Consul der französischen Republik" (in French Bonaparte, premier consul de la République française) Good condition: the set is mounted in a carved wooden frame. The paper

Dealer

Antiquités MM

Meubles et objets anciens

Mobile : 0633445929

17 Place Maréchal Lyautey

Lyon 69006

shows yellowing and traces of age-related wear. 15.8 x 26.8 cm (with frame) Careful packaging Possibility of shipping: France / International Payment: Bank transfer / CB on showroom* We always reply fairly quickly and thank you for remembering to check your junk mail. Our e-mail address is: antiquitesmm@gmail.com* If you would like to see this or other items, we would be delighted to welcome you to our showroom