Description

Italian Peasant, Roman Campagna, "Costumes italiens", 19th century. Watercolor and pencil on paper 29 × 21.5 cm. Study of a peasant in traditional central Italian dress, holding a stick, with a shoulder bag and a fiasco at the waist. He wears the typical ciocie, characteristic of the Roman Campagna. A handwritten inscription in French appears on the sheet, indicating a French-speaking artist and suggesting, with caution, a connection to a southern French painter, within the entourage of Dominique Papety (Marseille 1815 - 1849), trained in the circle of Ingres. The preparatory pencil drawing remains visible beneath the watercolor, applied in broad areas. The wide facial structure and construction through planes of color support this reading. Part of a coherent series of eight
