Description

Elegant bronze sculpture with a brown patina depicting a stylized bird, probably a wader, with sober, powerful modeling. The work is distinguished by its clean lines and slender silhouette, reflecting a resolutely modern approach, halfway between naturalism and stylization. The surface work reveals a beautiful deep brown patina with warm nuances, highlighting the volumes and the play of light on the suggested plumage. The slightly tilted head and pronounced beak give the piece a singular, expressive presence. The sculpture rests on a base of a large wooden frame. The sculpture rests on a square base, ensuring stability and balance to the whole. It is signed A. Bossi on the terrace. This is a decorative piece. A decorative piece of character, ideal for a refined, contemporary or Art
