Description

Large oil on canvas depicting a bustling Neapolitan market scene, signed lower right Carlo Roberto La Volpe, a 20th-century Italian painter known for his scenes of Italian popular life. The lively composition features numerous characters around a fruit market, including watermelons, street vendors, women and children in a bustling street typical of southern Italy. The whole is treated in a warm, luminous palette, with a supple touch close to Impressionism, characteristic of La Volpe's work. This is a large, highly decorative panoramic format, typical of the works produced by the artist between the 1940s and 1970s for the decoration of villas, hotels and grand residences. A certificate is present on the back of the painting. Canvas: 144 x 59 cm With frame: 183 x 84 cm Very fine original
