Description

Domestic interior imbued with deep religious fervour. Two elderly figures lie bedridden, probably ill, while at the foot of their bed two people - likely their children - pray on their knees. The sacred vision of the Virgin and Child appearing in a cloud above the scene suggests that this work was conceived as an ex-voto. The simple and touching composition reflects the family devotion and straightforward narrative typical of Italian folk painting from the early 20th century. Condition: Good overall condition; light surface wear and minor abrasions.
