Description

Elegant and sculptural, the Argo table embodies all Carlo Scarpa's architectural mastery. Crafted in travertine, it stands out for its sophisticated geometric design and perfect balance between massive lines and subtle details. The generous 200x120cm tabletop rests on a structured base with graphic lines, a signature of Scarpa's work, where every angle and assembly testifies to an in-depth reflection on material and light. The travertine, with its natural shades and mineral texture, lends the ensemble a presence both warm and monumental, ideal for a refined interior or a contemporary setting. An emblematic piece of Italian design, this table is aimed at lovers of exceptional furniture and collectors sensitive to Scarpa's work.
