Description

Elegant system desk chair, attributed to Jacob Josef Kohn, representative of late 19th-century Viennese production, in the tradition of Michael Thonet's designs. Rendered in bentwood and turned wood, it rests on a curved tripod base ensuring excellent stability. The central shaft features a screw mechanism for height adjustment, while the seat swivels, offering optimum comfort of use. The wrap-around bentwood backrest, combined with a caned seat and back, lends the ensemble great elegance and a beautiful visual lightness. The caning has been redone according to the rules of the art; it is therefore not the original one, but a quality restoration ensuring perfect comfort of use. The chair is in very good overall condition, sound and stable, and presents perfect function, ready for
