Description

Modular coffee table by Paul Kingma
The Dutch sculptor and designer Kingma is known for his unique tables, in which he combines various natural materials to form an artistic mosaic
The round table tops are composed of a combination of slate, natural stone and brass and copper inlays
The tables rest on a sculptural, blackened base featuring striking radial ribs, creating a balance between organic materiality and architectural rigour
Each element appears to have been carefully chosen and deliberately placed, contributing to the impression of a unique, almost meditative work of art
This specific model is modular or extendable. The two round tops can be rotated relative to one another to adjust the width of the table
The earthy colour palette - ranging from ochre and rust brown to deep
