Description

Charming pair of lounge armchairs dating from the 1960s with a resolutely modernist design, combining sober lines and timeless elegance.These armchairs seduce with their low, streamlined silhouette, resting on a delicately sloping black metal compass base, typical of post-war furniture. Their generous seat and gently sloping backrest offer pleasing comfort while maintaining a light, graphic aesthetic.The subtle contrast between the dark fabric of the seat and the lighter underframe lends relief and emphasizes their refined allure.Perfectly in the spirit of Italian design from the 50s, these armchairs are ideal for contemporary, mid-century or industrial chic interiors.Era: 1960sStructure: black lacquered metalLining: fabric (good condition)Sold as a pairVery nice
