Description

A rare curiosity, these beautiful reversible candleholders in patinated bronze from the reign of Louis XVI, modelled on park vases on pedestals. These highly refined table ornaments evoke the decor of a chateau garden, creating a unique and refined table setting to illuminate your evenings without obscuring your guests' gaze. These beautifully chiselled pieces have a great deal of majesty and are ornamental to a fault. They are low candlesticks that are no less elegant, and can be attributed to ravishing dressing table candlesticks, as the candle flame in no way detracts from their beauty. They are in very good condition and will appeal to the most demanding 18th century, Siècle des "Lumières" connoisseur.
