Description

Magnificent Louis XIV solid walnut writing table from the late 17th - early 18th century. The table features a handsome four-legged faceted baluster base, linked by a faceted spacer with a spinning top in the center. Each leg ends in a small, flattened, hexagonal ball. The front of the waistband is fitted with a large transverse drawer. The whole is topped by an overhanging top embellished with beautiful molding all around. We would like to point out a few small stains on the top, a few restorations (drawer bottom changed) and a small missing ring on the spacer (see last photo), all entirely normal for its age and use. Dimensions: Height to top 69 cm Height under headband 52 cm Length 104 cm Depth 64 cm Postage upon request.
