Description

Coat or long dress in black cotton, richly embroidered with floral motifs in gold thread, offering an elegant and refined contrast.

The quality of the textile workmanship and the richness of the decoration for both collection and decoration. The border running from the collar to the bottom of the garment is adorned with a wide pink satin braid, finely decorated with gold embroidery and punctuated with pyramid-shaped colored stones and punctuated with pyramid-shaped colored stones. The cuffs follow the same pattern, highlighting the long, flared sleeves, giving the garment an ample, elegant silhouette. The loose, flowing cut particularly highlights the black fabric entirely dotted with golden flowers, creating a luxurious effect, depending on the light. Era : late
