Description

Brass table photo frame, Art Deco period, circa 1930. This model features a rigorous, elegant composition characteristic of the decorative vocabulary of the 1920s-1930s. The stylized geometric decoration, punctuated by an upper frieze with triangular motifs and side jambs with twisted decoration, lends the ensemble a presence that is both sober and structured. This model is distinguished by a rigorous, elegant composition, characteristic of the decorative vocabulary of the period. Completely made of brass, including its back and easel, this frame testifies to meticulous craftsmanship. The side screw closure system is original. The whole presents a beautiful, homogeneous old patina, preserved with respect for the object, participating fully in its charm and authenticity. Dimensions: 12 x 17 cm Very good
