Description

Beautiful dictionary in two volumes, one French-Italian, the other Italian-French. By François d' Alberti de Villeneuve. First Italian edition, sold in Venice by Raimondi. Very good condition, usable today. Complete with a geographical dictionary, as a supplement to the 1st volume. This supplement has been damaged over time, and restored. The period leather binding is in fairly good condition, the corners a little worn, and some attacks by xylophagous insects. The leather is decorated with darker "stains", perhaps stencilled.
