Description

Scandinavian teak desk by Kai Kristiansen - Denmark, 1960s. Elegant Scandinavian teak desk, attributed to Danish designer Kai Kristiansen and produced by FM Mobler in the 1960s. This model features a line typical of Danish modernist design: light structure, tapered legs and perfectly balanced proportions. The asymmetrical front offers a functional composition with a hinged-door pedestal on one side, and a series of drawers on the other, complemented by an open central niche. The design highlights the teak workmanship, with warm veining and carved handles characteristic of Kristiansen's work. Kai Kristiansen's designs from the 1950s and 60s are particularly sought-after today for their craftsmanship and timelessness.
