Description

Beautiful oil on canvas depicting a bouquet of flowers in a slender vase, rendered with a supple and luminous touch, in a particularly appealing palette dominated by orange, purplish-red, and blue tones.

The composition, in a narrow vertical format, has a true decorative elegance.

The work is signed "Laurence" at the bottom, a pseudonym traditionally associated with the painter Alfred Arthur Brunel de Neuville (1852-1941), a French artist known for his still lifes and animal scenes.

This painting may be dated to the late 19th century or the early 20th century, in the spirit of decorative floral compositions appreciated for their freshness and presence.
