Description

Rare and elegant Breguet Type XX flyback chronograph watch, dating from the 1970s. This iconic model features a black dial with patinated luminescent Arabic numerals, offering remarkable legibility and authentic vintage charm. It is equipped with a three-counter chronograph with flyback function, characteristic of aviation watches. The rotating bezel features a stainless-steel dial. The graduated rotating bezel, steel case and presence of chronograph pushers underline its technical and military DNA. The mechanical movement, visible in the photos, is of the Valjoux type, renowned for its reliability and precision. Magnet-proof watch. Antimagnetic watch designed to meet the requirements of professional instruments. Mounted on a leather strap, this piece is in perfect condition, both
