Description

Large circular repoussé copper charger, 19th century, featuring a richly detailed mythological scene. At the centre stands a male figure identifiable as Poseidon, depicted in a dynamic stance, holding his attribute and surrounded by secondary figures. The composition unfolds around this central scene and is complemented by an animated border populated with figures, animals, and decorative motifs, inspired by Renaissance models. The deeply worked relief offers a lively and detailed reading of the scene, enhanced by the play of light across the chased surfaces. The surface shows a beautiful aged patina, combining original oxidation with past cleanings that reveal, in places, the warm golden tone of the copper. Depending on the angle, subtle variations of light create rich reflections and bring the relief to life. Highly decorative, this large-scale piece works perfectly as a wall element. Dimensions: Diameter: 98 cm Condition: Good overall condition with age-related wear. Nuanced patina. A few small piercings to the copper, discreet and barely visible once the piece is displayed. Gallery view A striking piece, both decorative and narrative. Its scale and dense composition evoke Renaissance models, while retaining the expressive strength of 19th-century decorative work. A strong visual presence, designed to capture and reflect light.
