Description

Beautiful 17th-century lacquer and gold frame. Frames of this type were produced in central Italy during the early 17th century; indeed, the loaf-shaped design harks back to the charm of 16th-century prototypes. The frame has not undergone any restorations and retains its original lacquer and gold leaf. Its external dimensions are 67 x 56 cm. Internal dimensions are 49.5 x 40 cm. Insured shipping is provided by the customer; we will personally handle professional packaging. We include a certificate of authenticity with the sale.
