

Lamp By Francis Dewaele Of The Atelier Marolles (jean Touret)

12 500 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Wrought iron

Diameter : 25

Height : 95 cm

Description

Rare lamp by Francis Dewaele (1912-1986), an ironworker who worked with the Marolles craftsmen, united around the figure of Jean Touret. Wrought-iron tripod base, clean lines combining modernism and raw materials, very representative of the aesthetics of the Marolles craftsmen. The lamp ends with a point evoking a spear. Abat day refurbished.
