Description

Art Deco statue Notre-Dame de Lourdes in polychrome plaster signed Alban Pene. Created by artist-sculptor Alban Pene in the early 20th century during the Art Deco period (1910-1939), this statue represents the apparition of the Blessed Virgin Mary at Lourdes, thus becoming Notre-Dame de Lourdes. This monumental sculpture is full of symbolism both religious with its choice of colors: blue and white symbolizing purity and life, joined hands praying for the good of Mankind .. and Art Deco with the geometry of the base, the shape of the Virgin's vestments, and the nature beneath her feet, the main theme of Art Deco. The beauty of this entirely handmade, hand-painted statue is extraordinary, and testifies to a craftsmanship worthy of master French artisans of the religious currents such as Alban
