Description

Painting, oil on canvas, "Adoration of the Shepherds" - 17th century Oil painting on canvas depicting the Nativity scene, specifically the "Adoration of the Shepherds," dating back to the second half of the 17th century, of the Italian school. The composition depicts the Virgin Mary, gently wrapped in a blue cloak and light veil, holding the Baby Jesus lying on a straw bed. Around them are shepherds and devotees, captured in a contemplative pose, while in the upper section, angels appear among luminous clouds, emphasizing the sacred and miraculous nature of the event. The iconographic layout and lighting recall the Baroque tradition, with a skillful use of chiaroscuro contrasts that lend depth and emotional intensity to the scene. The warm and harmonious color palette enhances the faces and draperies, helping to create an intimate and devotional atmosphere. The relined work features light signs of aging, including a surface patina and widespread craquelure, evidence of its authenticity and historicity. Mounted on a recent wooden stretcher, it retains a particularly appreciable antique charm. The painting is housed in a recently produced frame. Ideal for collectors and lovers of sacred art, it represents a refined example of period devotional painting, perfect for enhancing classical settings or antique collections.
