PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Aubusson Tapestry

4 400 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Wool

Width : 143

Height : 233

Depth : 4

Description

Aubusson "Greenery" Tapestry -- Handwoven Wool -- 17th / 18th Century, FranceHandwoven wool tapestry in the "Verdures" style, made in France, likely Aubusson or its environs, dating to the 17th or 18th century.A polychrome composition of "boro" (??) type, assembled in four sections, depicting a lush verdant landscape with large leafy trees, flowering plants, and garden architecture featuring a château in the background.Condition: wear consistent with age, slight soiling, repairs, rewoven areas, additions, minor damages and small holes. A testament to centuries of life. Can be displayed as-is or further restored.Dimensions 233 × 143 cm -- approximately 7'8" × 4'8"Boro, are a class of Japanese textiles that have been mended or patched together. The term is derived from the

Dealer

musee de l'ordinaire

interior designer, collector, antique dealer

Mobile : 0625415629

4 Rue Diderot

Bagnolet 93170

Japanese term "boroboro", meaning something tattered or repaired. The term 'boro' typically refers to textile materials mostly hand-woven, that have been stitched or re-woven together to create a multilayer hybrid textile.