Description

One of Claude Agier-Molinari's emblematic shapes: the pomegranate. This box is distinguished by its lid topped by a delicate grip that almost seems to float in the air, bringing lightness and poetry to the whole. The shapes are soft and rounded, with beautiful variations in material. Shades of bronze mingle with a deep blue, evoking a subtly frozen lava. Inside, a completely different world is revealed - brilliantly white, and, at the bottom, bluish reflections create the illusion of an aquatic surface. A piece with a strong presence, both organic and sculptural, capturing the light and inviting the eye as much as the touch. PIECE N° 25-0913 "BLEU METAL" Ball box Black sandstone Plate work and stamping Enamel on slip Firing temperature 1230° Height 10 cm Diameter 11 cm Weight 604
