Description

Dessert service (entremets) in silver metal produced by the English manufacture Walker & Hall, active in Sheffield. The service consists of 6 four-prong forks and 6 knives with a smooth and shaped blade, typical of cutlery intended for the end of the meal. The handles have a slightly flared shape and are decorated with a thin engraved border of geometric flavour, sober and elegant. Designed for use during dessert or for small tastings, according to English and European tradition. Introducing the original Walker & Hall boxes. Period: 20th century. Dimensions: length cm.
