Description

Alabaster sculpture circa 1920 depicting a little girl. She stands barefoot, wearing a pleated short-sleeved dress partially buttoned at the back and a cloche hat. As the wind blows, she holds her hat with both hands and her dress opens at the back, revealing a glimpse of her charming little bottom. The child's joyful face suggests that she is quite amused by the situation. This charming sculpture is in good condition. Height: 36cm Base diameter: 13,5cm
