Description

A funny guy in a little sailor's suit, the collar of the bourlingueur, topped with his bachi (beret with pompom)pompom), he plays with his instrument... Beautiful mastery, he seems to sketch a few dance steps as he plays. From behind, the artist shows us that our musician's buttocks are plump from all that rocking. no doubt..... Cracked art deco earthenware, anonymous but perhaps the humorous work of the Martel brothers, or by Fontinelle or Lejean, who knows?
