Description

Six Viennese Biedermeier chairs, circa 1830 Austrian , walnut veneered on beech. The magnificent walnut veneer underlines the high-quality appearance of the ensemble and lends the chairs a warm, lively radiance. Particularly charming are the fine lemon wood ribbon inlays, which elegantly frame the fan shape and accentuate the decorative effect of the backrests. It is precisely this detail that gives the chairs their special refinement. The seats have been newly upholstered and covered in a green striped fabric, which forms a fresh and elegant contrast with the warm tone of the wood. The surfaces have been cleaned and refreshed. Whether as dining chairs, in the living room or as a striking ensemble in a stylish interior - these six Viennese fan chairs possess radiance
