Description

Magnificent Sumak Kocan from Persia Sumak is a weaving technique akin to embroidery. Made without needles, it requires a second weft thread woven obliquely to create all the surface motifs. Its origins lie in Persia. At first glance, one is instantly seduced by a palette of very diverse hues. Indigo blue, orange, green, yellow, ochre, brown, ecru... The motifs are certainly particular to this region, but their arrangement is interesting, creating a beautiful harmony as well as vibrations.
