Description

Vase made using the cloisonné technique (cloisonné enamel on a copper vessel). It is adorned with a floral motif that is richly symbolic in Japanese culture. Peonies (Botan): Dominant flowers, white and yellow, symbolizing royalty, honor, wealth and feminine beauty. Chrysanthemums (Kiku): Smaller, darker flowers on the left, symbolizing longevity and imperial lineage. Cherry blossoms (Sakura): the white blossoms on the upper branches symbolize the transience of life and rebirth. Narcissus: visible at the back of the vase, they symbolize purity and the arrival of spring. Height 30.5 cm, diameter 12.5 cm. Japan, Meiji era (1868-1912). Very good condition. Free delivery within the European Union! I send parcels by insured courier (DPD or DHL). All items are packed very carefully.
