Description

Elegant solid oak Directoire table, late 18th/early 19th century. It rests on four tapered legs with square cross-sections, characteristic of this period, and opens with a drawer in the waistband. The whole presents a traditional pegged construction, with an old plank drawer bottom (flat bottom), testifying to an old manufacture. Oak top with wide planks, offering a beautiful patina of use. Sober and authentic provincial work, ideal as an occasional table, desk or console in a characterful interior. Beautiful authenticity, old patina preserved, original assembly.
