Description

Restoration period mahogany wallet game table - circa 1820Elegant Restoration-period mahogany wallet game table, first half of the 19th century.It rests on a four-legged saber base finished with brass castors, joined by a double central turned and fluted column. This elegant, stable structure is characteristic of early 19th-century gaming tables, often inspired by English Regency-style furniture.The wallet top opens to reveal a playing surface lined with yellow felt, ideal for cards or various parlor games. The interior is veneered in mahogany and offers attractive storage space. The top features an attractive flame mahogany veneer with a beautiful antique patina.This table combines elegance and functionality, perfect for a living room, library or office.Dimensions:Height: 75 cmWidth: 92.5 cmDepth closed: 46 cmOpen
