Condition : En l'etat

Material : Oil painting on wood

Description

Beautiful and moving 19th-century painting on panel and gold background depicting one of the most iconic crucifixions of 15th-century Italy, the crucifixion by Masaccio. Slightly larger in size than the work of the fifteenth-century master, this painting also contains all the profound emotion of the moment of Jesus Christ's passing: the Madonna with her blue robe and her hands clasped in pain, Saint John with his broken expression to whom the Madonna has been entrusted by the last words of Jesus ("here is your Mother", to symbolize the spiritual motherhood of Our Lady towards all humanity), Magdalene kneeling with her hands outstretched towards heaven and her red robe, the tree of Life on the Cross to represent the rebirth of life itself.
