Description

Murano glass chandelier, circa 1970 - 5 lights
Elegant Murano glass chandelier composed of five light arms, richly adorned with applied floral elements. The clear glass structure is enhanced by a delicate decoration of pink-tinted flowers and pendants, with subtle green accents, creating a refined and highly decorative ensemble.The scrolling arms, with their fluid and organic lines, reflect the stylised vegetal repertoire characteristic of Murano production in the second half of the 20th century. The bobeches, edged with small pink droplets, harmonise beautifully with the suspended flower-shaped pendants, which animate the light with a sense of lightness and movement.The central stem, slender and rhythmically punctuated with applied motifs, is ??????ed by a hanging finial in matching pink
