Description

An elegant Italian low table from the second half of the 19th century, a refined example of decorative furniture in the eclectic style. The frame is crafted from finely carved wood and embellished with a rich silver-leaf finish, which lends luminosity and depth to the undulating forms and ornamental elements. The base, featuring carved supports and shaped connectors adorned with scroll and volute motifs, strikes a remarkable balance between solidity and aesthetic refinement. The rectangular top, the true star of the piece, is crafted from lapis lazuli, with intense blue hues enriched by shades and veins that evoke the precious natural stone. This coffee table stands out for its craftsmanship and harmonious proportions, making it ideal as a decorative element in classical settings or as a contrasting
