Description

This piece stands out for the quality of its thick, subtly bubbled glass and the richness of its internal work with twisted reticello decoration, the signature of exceptional glassmaking expertise. The free, organic, almost sculptural form bears witness to the aesthetic research characteristic of post-war Italian design. Light is softly diffused, revealing all the complexity of the material and providing a strong decorative presence, even when switched off. Chromed metal wall mount. Work in the spirit of the great Murano glass houses, notably Barovier & Toso. Very good overall condition, slight traces of use in keeping with its age. Electrical check to be carried out according to current standards. An elegant and decorative piece, representative of the refinement of Italian glass from the 50s and 60s, ideal for a
