Description

This generous boulle-shaped ginger pot on a wooden base and lidded with a similar lid from the mid-19th century in Japan (signed with a stamp under the base) features a magnificent bird singing amidst branches with generous leaves and beautiful purplish-pink flowers. The beautiful and harmonious decoration in a magnificent color, the thick paste and the relief of the fired motifs in a graceful and masterful ornamentation. The beautiful base and fine lid underline this exceptional piece from Asia, in perfect condition. An infinitely decorative piece of beautiful size and ornamentation. A decorative element and a curiosity for this sturdy yet elegant ginger pot ...
