Description

Refined 19th-century French sofa in the Charles X style, crafted in beautiful mahogany and adorned with delicate floral marquetry details. This elegant two-seater sofa features a curved silhouette and volute armrests characteristic of the period, combining late Empire influences with the softness of the emerging Romantic style. It is upholstered in a luxurious damask fabric striped in warm golden tones and accompanied by well-stuffed cylindrical cushions, offering both historic charm and pleasant seating comfort. Recently refurbished, it boasts fine stability as well as a neat, fresh appearance. An elegant and distinguished piece, ideal for a classic interior, charming hotel, refined salon or reception space.
