Description

Beautiful oil on canvas by Gérard Reynier (1940-2019), depicting a typical landscape of the Crau region, bathed in warm southern light.The composition centers on a discreet Provençal farmhouse set within a dry, sunlit plain, animated by blossoming almond trees. Their vibrant white and soft pink tones contrast beautifully with the warm ochres and earthy hues of the ground.Executed with a palette knife, the painting features thick impasto and rich texture, giving the surface a sculptural quality. The energetic brushwork enhances the sense of movement and light, characteristic of Reynier's expressive style.In the background, gentle hills and a soft sky create depth and balance, capturing the atmosphere of southern France.Signed lower right.Dimensions:Canvas: 27 x 35 cmFramed: 49
