Description

The Wrestlers, patinated bronze group after Antique. France, 19th century. Height 37 cm Length 46 cm Base width, approx. 27 cm Very fine translucent patina, in imitation of those achieved in the 17th century by Giovanni Francesco Susini on Crown bronzes. The model is a marble group from ancient Rome (probably based on a Greek bronze original now lost) discovered in Rome in the 16th century. It entered the Medici collection in the 17th century and has since been exhibited at the Uffizi Museum in Florence.
