Description

Curved high sideboard in marquetry - Transition Louis XV / Louis XVI style - marble top
Elegant high sideboard with crossbow front in violet wood and frieze marquetry forming superb diamond-point motifs. The curved front opens with two doors, each decorated with high-contrast geometric marquetry panels typical of the Transition taste between Louis XV and Louis XVI. The set rests on cambered legs finished with bronze sabots, with a central decorative drop also in finely chased bronze. The bronze keyholes add a refined decorative touch. The top is topped with a molded marble with veined decoration, perfectly matching the curved forms of the piece. The interior is fitted with shelves, offering functional storage. The veneer work, with its play of grain and depth effects, testifies to quality
