Description

Beautiful kilim from Bergama, Turkey. Woven wool on wool, in the traditional manner. Very nice, fine and even weave. The piece is supple and light. The wool is ultra soft and silky, hand-spun. Sublime vegetal hues... a deeply dark and intense, almost abyssal blue, on which incredible color variations unfold: orange, yellow and violet, as well as a brick hue... an emerald green, rare and sought-after by collectors, catches the eye. There is also a remarkable presence of white, which structures the whole, creating a strong contrast and highlighting each color with an almost scenic clarity. Here, no rigidity in the geometric details: the elements are freely arranged in their place, like notes on a score, and compose their own visual harmony, outside any rules. The piece dates from the 1900s-1920s. In
