Description

Elegant broken duchesse "en bateau", consisting of 3 parts: a seat bergère, a trapezoidal intermediate element and an armchair-shaped footrest with detached uprights. The woodwork is painted beige, the broken duchesse covered with a Louis XVI pattern silk. The waistband of the 3 elements is carved with a sequined frieze (note a small lack on the front of the bergère, see photo). Thick feather cushions ensure excellent seating comfort. The seat structure is solid, the upholstery is in very good condition; small snags to the silk. Very nice proportions for this 18th-century seat, in a beautiful state of preservation.
