3 900 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Tapestry

Description

Charming Oudenaarde tapestry, typical of Flemish productions from the second half of the XVIIe century, illustrating a delicate scene of greenery. The setting is organized around a lively undergrowth, featuring abundant foliage and stylized groves in a subtle palette of blues, greens and natural tones. In the foreground, a group of flowers enriches the composition, bringing relief and poetry to the whole. The central scene is framed by an elegant border adorned with numerous generously shaped flowers, characteristic of the Oudenaarde workshops. The whole presents a beautiful decorative presence, imbued with softness and balance, ideal for a refined and authentic ambiance. Dimensions: 215 cm x 90 cm Good overall condition considering the period. Lined tapestry, equipped with a velcro
