Description

Solid oak coffee table, typical of the Amsterdam School of the 1930s, remarkable for its generous proportions. Its elegantly curved legs are linked by an undulating brace and adorned with the decorative black spheres characteristic of this style, giving the piece a strong architectural and sculptural presence.The table shows authentic signs of use, normal for its age. Note: a slight lack of veneer on one corner (see photo 1) and visible wear on the lower shelf (see photo 2). These minor imperfections in no way detract from the table's character and authenticity.Dimensions:Height: 72 cmDepth: 70 cmWidth: 60 cm
