Description

A native of Sarthe, Matignon enjoyed a brilliant career in Paris painter, responding to both public and private commissions. His paintings are always eagerly awaited at the Salon des Artistes français, where he exhibited from 1884 until his death. He exhibited in Brussels, Copenhagen, Geneva, London, New York, Tokyo and in the capitals of South America. The last part of his career was spent in the United States. During the latter part of his life, he multiplied his landscapes of LeCrottoy and the Bay of the Somme. Our pochade bears his studio stamp on the reverse.
