Description

bronze sculpture with a beautiful green patina, depicting an old peasant woman carrying a bundle of wood. subject certainly executed at the beginning of the 20th century, reminiscent of the drawings by JF Millet or Van Gogh lovingly depicting the men and women of the French countryside. a strong, "modern" sculpture, far removed from the prettiness of the too-smooth bronzes of the previous century.it rests on a removable wooden base, more suited to the style of the sculpture than a marble base which would have looked too precious.careful worldwide shipping .
