Description

This exceptional 1920s round table in rosewood and marquetry exemplifies the remarkable craftsmanship and artistic precision of early 20th-century European furniture. Its top features a superb geometric star-shaped marquetry decoration, meticulously composed from contrasting wood veneers, creating a particularly elegant and decorative visual effect. With its harmonious round shape and rich rosewood grain, this table rests on a handsome carved tripod base, combining stability, refinement and ornamental character. A true decorative piece, it brings warmth, sophistication and history to any interior. It will work perfectly as an occasional table, coffee table, decorative table or conversation piece, equally at home in a classic setting or a more eclectic interior. Details. Details: Era: circa
